Dear colleague,

First of all, we do hope that the strike action on February 14th will be successful and will open the door to fruitful negotiations. It is quite clear, from the letter that you sent about the action and demonstration in the capital, that the three rounds of negotiations you have had so far with the government, has not led to any significant proposal to improve the salaries of teachers and to raise the percentage of GDP allocated to education institutions. Such a situation shows once more that mobilisation is necessary in order to put more pressure on the government authorities.

SNES-FSU is strongly supporting your action plan and is convinced that your strike action will compel the government to take concrete and significant measures about teachers' salaries.

In solidarity.
